

Half-a-day Technical Workshop

2015 Food Safety and Security Workshop Vietnam

A Joint Workshop conducted by Institute of Animal Sciences for Southern Vietnam (IASVN) and Asia Pacific Institute of Food Professionals (APIFP)

Introduction

Asia-Pacific faces diverse and specific nature of food challenges in food security, food safety, poor quality health foods and shortage of food supply. There is a strong need to develop more regional cooperation and collaborations.

Sessions:

- Food safety and security situation in Vietnam
- Food safety and global food security
- Animal food products and food security
- Understanding regional food security
- Regional food trade issues
- Panel discussion

Speakers

Prof William Riley

Professor of Food Safety – Jinan University China

Dr Malik Hussain

Food Microbiologist – Lincoln University New Zealand

Prof La Van Kinh

Institute of Animal Sciences for Southern Vietnam

Benefits to attendees

This technical and scientific workshop is designed to create awareness of food security challenges. A better understanding of regional food safety and security issues in global context.

Who should attend?

- Agriculturists;
- Animal scientist;
- Analytical companies;
- Food manufacturers;
- Food testing laboratories;
- Food scientists and students;
- Food supply chain;
- Government authorities.

Date: 24th August (Monday), 2015

Time: 1:00 pm – 5.30 pm

Venue: Institute of Animal Sciences for Southern Vietnam. Hiep thang, Binh thang, Di an, Binh duong. Tel: +84.650. 3739899

Email: iasvn@iasvn.vn

Registration fee: Free

For registration and further information

Email: van.nguyenthanh@iasvn.vn

